

Funky Rock Designs

ARTIST STATEMENT:

Jeff Henderson and his family create each piece from all-natural stones they find along the coast and rivers of New England. Each rock is hand-chosen and carried to their workshop in Maine, where they are individually drilled to create their extensive line of products. The shapes and textures made by the pounding surf are distinct to each rock, and each of those characteristics determines how it will be used.

Funky Rock Designs takes pride in bringing a little bit of nature indoors in a unique form of fun and functional art.
